The Citadel Graduate College

Non-Cadet Honor Code

Honor Code Statement: It is the responsibility of all community members to promote, abide by, and enforce the following honor code: “A Citadel non-cadet student (e.g. graduate, evening undergraduate, or veteran) does not lie, cheat, steal, nor tolerate those who do.”

It is the responsibility of all Citadel community members to promote, abide by, and enforce the following honor code. Every non-cadet student (which includes evening undergraduates, graduate students, day veterans, fifth-year students, and all active duty students) must uphold the honor code as well as The Citadel’s Core Values of Honor, Duty, and Respect. Each student is required to represent him or herself honestly in all college business matters and on all documents. Each student does his or her own work and refrains from any form of academic dishonesty, including plagiarism and cheating. In personal conduct, each student acts in a professional and ethical manner and refrains from any form of disrespectful behavior to any other member of The Citadel community.

Research and Professional Development Program

CGC will offer several opportunities to enhance the graduate student experience. Given The Citadel’s commitment to leadership and professional development, The Citadel Graduate College Research and Professional Development Program provides opportunities for graduate students to holistically prepare for the next step in their careers.

The Graduate College Research and Professional Development Program will offer:

- Funding for the Presentation of Research for Graduate Students. Awards will be granted to students for reasonable expenses related to presenting research at professional conferences. Students must present a paper at the conference to be eligible for support.
- Funding for Graduate Student Research. These funds will be used to support small grants to graduate students who need funds to complete their research projects.
- Leadership and Professional Development Workshops. Funding for graduate students interested in workshops relating to leadership or career development in their chosen fields.

An important feature of the CGC Research and Professional Development Program is that all applications are reviewed by committees made up of staff members, some of whom are CGC alumni. This provides staff from across the campus with an opportunity to use their particular talents to enhance the graduate student experience and to potentially create pathways to interact and mentor graduate students. Applications will be available three times a year and awards are based on the availability of funds. For questions, please contact The Citadel Graduate College.

Get Involved on Campus

We encourage all of our students to get involved in a variety of ways on campus. You can join an organization like the Student Government Association (SGA), organizations within your programs, or attend various events on campus. CGC students are able to receive one free sporting event ticket per calendar year. Contact the box office for details. With Chick-fil-a on campus and a Starbucks, we encourage you to meet up with your classmates outside of the classroom to get to know each other and to build your network.
